NEXT SHOOT...

The following has been arranged in connection with our CLUB FILM...

Date: Saturday 11th September

Location: Elworth Cricket Club

Time: 10.30 set-up for 11.00 filming.

Arranged with: Scott Elliott Cricket Team Captain / Mike Hassall CCVC

We will require to finish filming on the pitch in time to enable the teams to warm up for their match which begins at 12.00.

Anyone interested will be encouraged to attend. (You may wish to be in the crowd scene when the trophy is handed over)

We will be...

able to place cameras on the pitch, but avoid the "square" at all costs.

We will require to shoot...

batsman (without a helmet) knocking a "six".

We will require Neil at a later date to be available to catch the ball, thus preventing the six to be scored. He is on holls on this date.

Cricket official to present the trophy. (Who will receive it???)

See note below from Eddie regarding the info he provided prior to going on holls.

Hi , Isabel, Neil & Bill, further to the discussions on Tuesday 17th it was noted that how do we inform the viewers that this was the last batsman. Howard suggested that we make it the last over, again we have to try convey to the viewers that it is the last over. This problem can now be overcome by doing the following. From the footage we already have there is one section where a batsman is bowled out twice - the first being a no ball - the second is a perfect place to insert a dialogue as follows:- 2 spectators watching when on of them with some enthusiasm says we could win this, when his colleague says pessimistically they only need 3 runs to win and lift the trophy, to which the reply is, this is the last over. In another piece of footage we have the bowler giving instructions to the fielders- the conversation could continue by the optimistic spectator saying, look, the bowler, he's setting the field out, this could be our lucky day..... The rest as discussed.

An extra piece:- When the grandfather and grandson are walking back to the house, and the last line spoken by the grandfather " yes i've had my moments" at this point we could introduce a picture in picture ie a thought bubble showing him with the trophy held high.

See you

all when i get back eddie
